PROFILE

Produced from the grape varieties Aragonez and Alicante Bouschet planted in the Peninsula of Setúbal. These grapes find the ideal terroir for a rich, elegant and soft wine in the mouth, in the low-yield vineyards of the sandy soils of Palmela. The different varieties, having reached the ideal maturation, were vinified separately using a traditional method. The final lot was made in April 2023 and then bottled.

TASTING NOTES

With a deep red color the Serras de Azeitão Red 2021 presents aromas of red and black fruits like cherry, combined with notes of wild flowers; in the mouth the sensation of this fruit is intense, originating a wine with a full, soft, very fresh and persistent finish. It has a great aging potential in the bottle.
